Major Announcement on Park Plan For Taylor Yard

What: California State Parks, the City of Los Angeles, and several State and City of Los Angeles elected representatives will be announcing the results of several months of discussions on the future development and use of Taylor Yard, a 40-acre site owned by California State Parks, located near downtown Los Angeles.

When: Friday August 15, 2003, 9 AM.

Where: Taylor Yard – Press Conference area is located on San Fernando Road between Alice and Elm Street. Look for the large, red sign, which states: Los Angeles-Taylor Yard. Look also for large tower, access road is right there.

Who: Persons present for the announcement will be:

California Secretary of Resources Mary Nichols
Los Angeles Mayor Jim Hahn
Los Angeles City Councilman Ed Reyes
State Assemblymember Jackie Goldberg
State Senator Gil Cedillo
State Parks Deputy Director Sedrick Mitchell
Los Angeles City Parks General Manager Manuel Mollinedo
State Parks Southern District Superintendent Ted Jackson

Background: For several months, the above listed officials, their offices and agencies, have been working to deliver what residents of the Taylor Yard neighborhoods have been wanting in both recreation and natural areas at the new park planned for Taylor Yard. This announcement will get the ball rolling and bring back the public participation in planning this unique park.
